CCOERA Scholars may attend any undergraduate college or institution offering post-secondary education. There are significant differences between schools, and, ultimately, the decision about which school to attend must be based upon a Scholar's personal needs, future goals, intended field of study and individual preference. CCOERA suggests students tour the schools, visit with faculty and students, and research the wide variety of honors, leadership and research programs available at these institutions before making a commitment to any one school.

We are looking for students who have been actively involved in their schools and communities and who have demonstrated leadership, initiative and a high level of involvement throughout their high school careers.
